HOUSE BILL TO OUTLINE FIRST BUDGET SYSTEM

Appropriations Committee About to Report Measure to Congress; Is Expected to Pass; President Wilson Favors Plan

DIFFER FROM PRESENT LAWS OF OTHER NATIONS

Provides for Two Officials to Be in Charge of Work; Both are Appointive by President With Approval of Congress

Washington, Oct. 10.—A national budget system, a scientific step forward in the interests of national economy, is about to come before congress in the form of a bill to be reported to the house of representatives by the appropriations committee. Although a stubborn fight is expected to be made upon it by old time congressional privateers, jealous of their historic privilege of spending the government's money with lavish hands, it is expected that the measure will pass. As President Wilson has consistently urged the enactment of such a law there is no question of his approval.

Democratic and republican leaders of progressive tendencies have realized that something must be done to abate the waste of money that is annually appropriated by congress, hence the efforts for budget legislation in the 66th congress have at last met with less opposition than ever before. Most of the large nations of the earth are administered on the budget plan and the United States has been practically alone in its legislative appropriation system.

The bill as at present drawn will differ materially from the budget laws of other nations, this being due to the difference in the American style of government and placing of responsibilities. Former President Taft, an ardent advocate of a budget, and Carter Glass, secretary of the treasury, another espouser of the project, have been heard by the committee and their views obtained as to what they believe the bill's salient features should be.

The United States government has at the present time a law permitting the revision of estimates, but it contains no provisions for the machinery necessary for investigation of the desirability of the recommendations. If the budget bill now being evolved by the house appropriations committee becomes a law there will be two major officials in charge of the work. First, there will be a director of the bureau of the budget, or some similar title, who would be appointed by the president and subject to confirmation by the senate. His salary will be $10,000 a year and he will have an assistant at $7,500. He will be assigned a sufficient force to investigate all claims for appropriations and to keep tab on the necessities of the various departments, not only from month to month, but day to day.

The director of the budget would be directly under the president, and on him the chief executive would largely depend for his departmental and general information.

The other official will be styled the auditor-general. He, too, will be appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate and it is planned that he be subject to removal only by resolution of both senate and house for misconduct, incapacity or other such cause. This would remove this important office beyond the reach of politics. His salary would be commensurate with that of the budget director, and he also would have a suitable staff. The business of the auditor-general would be to check the appropriations, revenues and expenditures of the government, so that congress may obtain at a moment's notice figures on the state and national finances and everything relative to expenditures.

ROAD DRAGS FOR LOCAL DISTRICT READY FOR WORK

Commissioner Declares Contracts Made Covering Entire District and Men on Job; Tabler Road to be Graded He Says

That there are six contracts awarded for the dragging of roads in the Chickasha district of Grady county covering all the road in this district with the exception of the Tabler road, that a tentative dragging contract is made for that road to become effective as soon as it can be graded and that the contracts are being fulfilled as the weather permits, was the statement of J. A. Temple, county commissioner of the Chickasha district this morning.

Mr. Temple stated that, weather permitting, it was the plan to drag the roads three times a month, or four times when heavy rains fell during any month. He pointed out that on the Tabler road, there is no necessity of dragging at this time because of the fact that it is in need of grading and the dragging would be a waste of time and money.

Arrangements have been made to grade the Tabler road, Mr. Temple stated and workmen are to get busy on that stretch of road as soon as the weather will permit. After it is graded, the commissioner declared, it will be dragged regularly. Other dragging contracts, he said are being fulfilled.

Mr. Temple stated that another road gang with a grading outfit is on the road north of Chickasha between this city and Ponca but that because the stretch of road they are working on is gumbo land, the recent rains have put them out of business. As soon as the ground has dried sufficiently, he said, this gang will again be busy as well as the outfit on the Tabler road.

In speaking of the Ozark Trail, Mr. Temple said, "Col. Harvey took a slap at the road work on the Ozark trail in this county, but he didn't travel over a foot of it. The designated Ozark trail through Chickasha is by way of Tuttle, Amber, Chickasha and Verden. Col. Harvey came into Chickasha over the Tabler road and left Chickasha over the road to Cement. We had the Ozark trail proper dragged to a finish at the time he came through, but he went another road and then talked about the poor condition of the Ozark trail."

After Long Hours of Labor no Agreement Reached on Proposal of Arbitration for Steel Strike; Conference Marks Time

By United Press.
Washington, Oct. 10.—The industrial conference announces a recess today until 9:30 Tuesday morning in order to give the central committee time to study the proposal of the labor group to name a committee to arbitrate the steel strike.

By United Press.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Declaring for an "open shop," the delegates representing capital proposed a code on industrial relations to the industrial conference here today.

"No employer should be required to deal with any man or group of men who are not his employees or who were chosen by men among them," the report said.

This report is similar to the stand of Judge Gary, head of the United Steel corporation in refusing to meet the officials of the American Federation of Labor, who were directing the steel strike and who, he said were not representing his employees.

The proposals outlined by the delegates of capital, are divided into twelve classes and deal with general principles.

Deadlock Imminent

A deadlock on organized labor's proposal for immediate arbitration of the steel strike loomed before the industrial conference today. The deadlock is threatened in the committee of fifteen to which the question has been referred.

Indications today are that it will be necessary for the conference to adjourn until after the deadlock is broken in the committee on account of lack of business without the committee reports.

The central committee considered the proposal for arbitration of the strike last yesterday afternoon and until midnight last night. It was stated this morning that the committee members were unable to agree.

Boston, Oct. 10.—The effect of prohibition on the sugar supply of the country is already apparent, according to W. K. Green, general manager of the American Sugar Refinery here. He also says that more sugar has been brought into the country this year than ever before.

Persons accustomed to liquor are now turning to candy and other sweets to satisfy the craving for alcohol, it was pointed out at a conference between sugar manufacturers and the state commission on the necessities of life.

Dwight P. Thomas, head of the Revere Sugar Refining company, declared that the consumption of sugar in the United States will be the largest in the history of the country. Last year, he said, the total consumption was 3,800,000 tons. For the first six months of 1919 the consumption reached 2,000,000 tons and probably will be more than 4,000,000.
